Supervisors Refer Northgate Petition To SM Assessor

Petition calling for an election to resolve the status of the unincorporated Colma area is now under scrutiny by the county assessor, by order of the board of supervisors on Tuesday. The assessor is allowed 30 days in which to check the validity of the petition.

If the petition is deemed in order, supervisors will hold a public hearing and then call for an election.

Meanwhile, incorporation proponents began their campaign for the proposed city of Northgate, according to Thomas Noonan, leader of the group.

The incorporation committee this week announced the following purposes and policies:

"The purpose of incorporating, as the City of Northgate, the area now served by the Broadmoor Police District and the Colma Fire district, is to stabilize and protect the existing boundaries and to provide an economical and simplified local government for the area.

"To accomplish this without any increase in taxes at the local level the Committee for Incorporation endorses the following policies:

1. The present tax rate will be maintained as a ceiling.
2. The present Fire district will be maintained in its existing form.
3. The Broadmoor Police district will become a function of the city government due to a requirement for qualification to receive funds from fines and forfeitures. It will be directed, however, by a police commission as at present and will operate with the same personnel and with the same budget as is now provided.
4. Road maintenance will be an improved service. Although for

By MONTE DAYTON

Motorists who have been on the receiving end of tickets in the DC police department's whirlwind campaign to stop parking on the wrong side of the street and to enforce use of proper holds on hills have been kicking up quite a ruckus at city hall.

But one citizen, EDWARD L. FRYE, 815 Washington, Colma, who got a ticket for overparking way back on May 14, is also a little indignant. In fact, he pleaded not quilty to the charge, a stand taken by very few motorists.

The case will go to trial September 13 at 9:30 a.m., and City Attorney FRANK BLUM will have to be on hand to represent the city. just as if it was a high-powered damage suit.

JIM MASON, recreation director, his brother, and LOU MARTIN, Jefferson High coach, went off to the boondocks Friday to do some steelhead fishing at Weitchpec, in the Trinity country.

They may be fighting fire instead, as at last report a major blaze was raging through that area.

LAWYER APPEALS OUSTED COP AND HILLTOP ORDERS

Petitions asking the court to set aside previous orders on both the David Johnstone and Hilltop Lodge cases were filed yesterday (Thursday) by John J. Fahey, Jr., attorney for both clients.

First decision to be appealed by Fahey is the Daly City council's firing of Johnstone, former police inspector. The council fired Johnstone on May 23 on charges of 'association with known gamblers' and 'failure to inform superior officers of all investigations.'

The former inspector's ouster was appealed to the three-man civil service board of review which, after lengthy hearings, gave a unanimous opinion for Johnstone's reinstatement. On August 1, the council ignored the board of review's finding and voted three to one to reaffirm the firing.

Vote Breakdown

Casting aye votes for the ouster were Councilmen Joseph Verducci, Sanford Vickers and Micheal DeBernardi, while casting the

Ex-Con Robs Woman Of $35 In DC Home

A 31-year-old Daly City woman, who listed her occupation as "self-employed," told police this week that she had been robbed of $35 by an ex-convict she had entertained in her home early Monday morning.

Alberta Erdtsieck, 19 San Joaquin avenue, related the following story to police:

At 3:30 a.m., she said that she and a male and female companion witnessed a street brawl in the Tenderloin district of San Francisco, following which the trio pro-

JITNEY REQUEST TO RUN IN B'MOOR SET FOR OCTOBER HEARING

Hearing on Northgate Transit Co.'s application for certificate from state public utilities commission to operate their jitneys in Broadmoor and Colma areas has been set for October 20, 10 a.m., at Daly City hall.

Commissioner John Rowe will preside at the hearing, which will be open to the public.

Northgate Transit Co. is now operating its vehicles solely within the city limits of Daly City.

Another firm, Westmoor Transit Lines, was turned down by the commission last month in its quest for a certificate to operate a commute bus in the Broadmoor area. The commission held that SF Municipal Bus No. 76 was providing adequate service to the unincorporated fringe areas. Whether the commission will take this stand on the Northgate Co.'s request has not been revealed.

WHAT'S YOUR NAME? — Police Lieutenant Roy Beecher vainly questions a two-year-old lost child, later identified as Carol Christopher of 20 Miriam street. Carol, who somehow slipped undetected away from her home, was found standing in the middle of the Santa Barbara and Knowles intersection by Officer Charles Munday at 1 p.m. on Friday. While spending the next 40 minutes in the police station, the non-plussed child refused to give out any information as to her name despite pleas by the police staff. A telephone call by Carol's frantic mother, Mrs. William Christopher, finally established the needed identification.

Ambulance Policy Is Called For

Purchase of a crash-wagon was forwarded by City Manager Howard Stites as a possible means of reducing expenses for city ambulances calls Monday night.

Stites told the council at the outset of the discussion that the council should set a policy on when the city should pay cost of ambulance calls and when this cost should be borne by private citizens.

The manager explained that some of the calls were definitely of a community responsibility, but that others should be paid for by

EMPLOYEES VOTE TO BAR PRESS FROM MEETINGS

"For their own protection," the City Employees association voted unanimously Thursday night to bar members of the press at their monthly meetings. Request to attend the employees meetings had been made by THE RECORD.

Association President John Walsh said today that the employees feel that the press has no legal right to report on a "private club."

"The appearance of the press at the present time would probably be all right, but it might lead to complications later," Walsh declared.

Also on the agenda of this month's meeting were:

1. Agreement to carry through on earlier decision to financially back David H. Johnstone, Jr., fired police inspector, and tentative decision to assess association members for court costs.
2. Discussion of the association's annual dinner next month.

"PENALTY" FOR OVERPARKING HELD MEANS FOR FUNDS

Charging of a $1 "penalty" for overparking, instead of issuing traffic citations, was cited as a means of gaining city revenue by City Manager Howard Stites Monday night.

Stites said instead of channeling the payments through municipal court, which takes a 25 per cent slice out of the traffic violation fines, the city could attach an envelope to persons tagged for overparking. The tag would explain that penalty for overparking was $1, which could be mailed direct to the city.

Persons failing to pay the penalty, Stites said, would then be issued a citation and would handle the fine through the miunicipal court, which would take its percentage out of the fine.

Stites said several municipalities had adopted this system.

VALLEY STORM DRAINS OF NO USE, STITES REVEALS

Storm drains constructed in the First and Valley streets area, to alleviate bad flood conditions in southern Daly City are of "negligible" value, City Manager Howard Stites revealed Monday night.

Stites said he would design a new drainage system for the area, which will be part of the overall southern Daly City drainage program, and submit a cost estimate to the council next Monday.

He warned, however, that, "We've got to figure where this money is going to come from."

The manager said councilmen may have to go over the budget

CITIZENS GROUP SPURS EFFORT TO RE-OPEN JOHNSTONE CASE

Promising to "go big gun" from now on in its attempt to "expose the whole thing" and oust the present city council, the Better Government for Daly City group met for the second time Wednesday night at Little Italy hall, 6219 Mission street, adopted by-laws and categorically denied charges levied against its members by the council last week.

A gathering of 30 citizens headed by Arthur Bodien, former superintendent of the water department, reiterated their demand that the council re-open the case of David Johnstone Jr., fired Daly City policeman, and that use of the War Memorial building for city offices be discontinued. They promised to be on hand Monday night and "bring a friend" at the regular meeting of the city council to back their demands.

Opening the meeting, Bodien said, "Up to now we've been feeling our way slow to find out what's going on before we really organize.

"We'll go big gun from now on."

"Clean Up Government"

The former city official also related how he had had "lot of time on my hands recently and I'm surprised how many people are anxious to clean up the government. This club looks forward to doing that pob."

Bodien then read a letter asking for re-opening of the Johnstone case and a stop to use of the local War Memorial community center for city offices. He said the letter would be read at the city council meeting Monday night.

"I suppose we'll be denied," Bodien said, "But we'll put them on the spot."

Bodien then went on to deny allegation of the city council last week that he, as superintendent of public works, allowed an expenditure of $100,000 for extension of Brunswick street, which is only one block long.

"Lie Number 1"

He termed this "Lie Number 1" of the council's answer, signed by "Our honorable little mayor."

"I challenge the mayor to prove that statement and show where I was responsible for that job." He intimated the council's statement

School Bells Will Ring Monday For 7500 Pupils

See 400 Additional Enrollment For Jeff High This Semester

An enrollment of 1800 students, an increase of 400 over last year, is expected this fall at Jefferson Union high school. Opening day for Jeff is scheduled for next Monday.

New students will enroll at the school on Mission street on September 6, 7 and 8 during the hours 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Pupils registering are asked to bring their last report cards.

A total of 72 new teachers have been assigned to jobs in the school, an increase of nine over last year. Twenty of the teachers are new to the district.

Administration changes have taken place this year in preparation for the opening of Westmoor High school in a year.

Those affected are:

Stanford Hanah, who drops the Jeff principalship to devote his entire time to his superintendency duties; John Mongan, who takes over as Jeff principal from his former position as dean of boys; Miss Ada Wood, who remains dean of girls at Jeff; Glenn South, who becomes Jeff vice principal in preparation for a principalship with the opening of Westmoor; Miss Hildegard Seidel, who becomes assistant dean of girls at Jeff in preparation for the dean of girls post at Westmoor; and Clayton Kollman, who is now dean of boys at Jefferson and former attendance director.

DOUBLE SESSIONS PROBABLE IN NINE JESD CLASSROOMS

Westlake and Broadmoor will be the areas most affected by the double session program in the Jefferson Elementary school district when schools open Monday, it appeared apparent today.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel declared that "most of the expected total of nine classrooms on double sessions this fall term will be west of Junipero Serra boulevard." He predicted an increase of about 300 students over last year's enrollment of 4474.

"It is difficult to predict exactly what our total enrollment will be," the superintendent added, "because of the opening of Our Lady of Mercy parochial school in Westlake." Weibel explained that the Jefferson district has no way of knowing how many children will transfer from the public schools with the opening of the new parochial school.

Jefferson Elementary schools have been off double sessions since last February, following a period of about nine years of double sessions.

Registration

Registration for the public schools will be held tomorrow (Thursday) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in all district schools. For information regarding specific school, persons may call the administration building, PLaza 5-3341.

Parents registering children new to the district are asked to bring the last report card, and parents registering kindergarten children are asked to bring birth certificates.

All students entering the seventh and eighth grades will be enrolled in the Colma school, Hillsdale and Market streets.

Following is the district calendar for 1955-56 school year:

September 8, registration of pupils new to the district; September 12, school opens; November 11, Armistice day holiday; November 24-25, Thanksgiving holiday; December 19-January 2 inclusive, Christmas vacation; February 13, Lincoln's birthday holiday; February 22, Washington's birthday holiday; March 26-31, Easter vacation; May 30, Memorial day; and June 15, school closes.

Council To Act As Equalization Board At Monday Meeting

Daly City council will sit as the board of equalization Monday night to adopt an assessment roll which they haven't seen as yet.

Generally, by this time the city would have received the roll from City Clerk B. C. Ross. However, the council had no information as to the assessed valuation of the city until last week, when THE RECORD disclosed the amount, as released by Ross.

Total valuation, including a 15 per cent increase in land assessments, comes to $25,103,635, including exemptions.

The council is expected to approve the assessment increase, which will bring in an additional $14,866.28 in city revenue.

City Attorney Frank Blum said if there are no protests Monday, the council could formally approve the assessment roll.

OLPH School Opens Monday To 400; As Many On Wait List

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic school will open its doors Monday morning to more than 400 children, with approximately 50 children signed up for each grade, first through eighth.

Due to limited facilities, enrollment is about the same as last year. The kindergarten class has been abandoned this year because of a teacher shortage.

Sister Principal Regina said that the school could accommodate only about half of the youngsters who were signed up, with nearly 400 names on the waiting list. "We regret having to refuse so many,"

Holy Angels School Adds Eighth Grade; Enrollment At 400

Due to the addition of an eighth grade to Holy Angels parochial school this fall semester, total enrollment will jump to about 400 students, according to Sister Saint Thomas Aquinas, Mother Superior. Last year's enrollment was 350 pupils.

Holy Angels school, on San Pedro road, now offers instruction from the first through the eighth grade. The school is staffed with eight teachers and one part-time instructor who teaches folk dancing.

All classes start at 8:30 a.m., first and second grades will finish the school day at 2:30 p.m., and third through eighth grades will finish at 3 p.m., the Mother Superior said.

Peninsula Lines To File For Cemeteries Route Approval

The Peninsula Bus Lines will file application "within a few days" with the state public utilities commission to operate on the same route as Municipal Railway No. 56 cemeteries bus, according to Walter Ryan, company president.

Approval is expected since the San Francisco board of supervisors voted on August 8 to discontinue the No. 56 line as soon as the Peninsula Bus company gains a franchise to start the same operation.

Ross Hall Death Held Officially A Suicide

The case of Ross Orville Hall, 39-year-old salesman found slumped in his car near Thornton beach August 10 with a .45 caliber slug through his head, has been officially closed, Daly City police department announced today.

At first indications led to the belief that Hall was murdered, but on investigation police changed their theory to suicide.

Inspector Bruno Conci said he had met Wednesday with County Coroner Paul Jensen, and the two had concluded Hall took his own life.

Jensen tentatively set September 21 as date for inquest, which will be held in Daly City.

MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR GALA GARDEN SHOW THIS SUNDAY

Final plans were underway today as the Daly City Garden club prepared for their second annual Flower Show to be given this Sunday, from 1 to 9 p.m., at the community center. The building will be open to exhibitors and entrants promptly at 8 a.m. and entries must be in place by 10:30 a.m.

Judging by results so far the indications are that this year's show will surpass last years effort and then some, the Chairman said.

Floral Arts Nursery is taking over a major portion of the lobby of the memorial building, where the show is being held and will transform it into a garden setting.

Beautiful exhibits will be presented by the San Bruno Branch of the American Fuchsia society, San Francisco Rose society, American Begonia Society, Dahlia Society of California, and the African

75 Per Cent City Supplies Bought Outside Area

Seventy-five per cent of the supplies purchased by the Daly City municipality and paid for in six weeks during July and August were bought out of town, a study of the warrants disclosed today.

City officials attribute this to three main reasons:

1. Many of the supplies the city requires are not available here.
2. Some supplies are purchased in wholesale lots.
3. Lower prices can sometimes be obtained elsewhere on supplies on sale here.

Nevertheless, some merchants have voiced complaints that they are no longer furnishing supplies to the city that they did before Howard I. Stites was appointed manager and add that they are not even asked to make bids.

Wililam J. Fitzpatrick, the city's new purchasing agent, stated that the city has to buy its stationery outside Daly City because there is no stationer here. He also said that supplies needed by such departments as police, fire, water, streets, parks, the library and others are of a technical kind not distributed here.

"Save 40%"

Some items, Fitzpatrick said, are retailed here, but the city can save as much as 40 per cent by going to distributors or wholesalers because it buys in large lots.

Fitzpatrick said he had eight years experience in the Army as purchasing agent and is installing a card index system listing the names and addresses of all firms with which the city does business. On the backs of those cards, he stated, he is making annotations that will give him a permanent record of the quality of the purchases made.

Mayor Joseph Verducci reported that the city's policy is to buy supplies available in Daly City here when the local price is not more than five per cent higher than that quoted outside the city. He said the city does not want to discriminate against local business establishments, nor does it want to pay excessive prices to the detriment of all the city's taxpayers.

Stites said he sometimes prices goods by telephone before making purchases, but does not call for formal bids for all tiny items involving only a few dollars.

Complaint Heard

A complaint was heard that the city requires bids on items of $2 to $15 but spends thousands of dolalrs on equipment purchases for which no bids are asked.

Stites stated the only large purchase without bidding was a Caterpillar grader, model 12, bought from Henry Doelger Builder, Inc., for $5,665 by city council resolution No. 2234 approved August 8.

He said that a grader is just as necessary to a street department as a typewriter is to a stenographer and Daly City was one of the few California municipalities that had none. With it, he added, the street department can vastly expand its street maintenance work at reduced cost.

Such a grader, new, he reported, would cost the city $13,000 to $14,000, while used graders are not often available.

He said Doelger bought the grader to put in sub-division streets, but later contracted out

AUGUST BUILDING SETS NEAR RECORD

Construction of private dwellings and commercial structures in Westlake brought building in Daly City for the month of August to a near-all time record high, Daly City Building Inspector George Hopman reported today.

Hopman said 145 building permits, totalling $1,542,681 in value, were issued, most of them to Henry Doelger, Builder Inc.

Of 117 permits issued for private dwellings, 107 were to the Doelger Co. for construction of homes in the Highlands area west of Skyline boulevard.

Total value of private dwellings on which construction was started in August amounted to $1,018,369, second highest one-month figure in the city's history.

The record for building of private residences, $1,200,000, was set five months ago, Hopman said.

Permits for four new commercial buildings, three of them in Westlake Shopping Center, swelled value in that category to $289,112 for the month. Westlake buildings for which permits were issued included W. T. Grant, Woolworth and First Western Bank.

Permit for the Our Lady of Mercy church structure on Elmwood near South Mayfair totalled $208,000 in value.

In all, there were 145 building permits issued for the $1,542,681 total, making it second or third largest in the city's history, revealed Hopman.

75 Per Cent City Supplies Bought Outside City

such work and no longer has need of it. Stites said the purchase represented a particularly good buy for the city.

$1682.87 Outside City

Warrants approved by the City Council July 25, August 8 and August 22 for purchase of supplies shows that purchases in San Francisco totaled $1307.60 and in other cities exclusive of Daly City $375.27, or a total of $1,682.87 outside this city. Purchases in Daly City amounted to $503.89.

That Daly City' payroll has been increased at the rate of $30,000 a year since the appointment of Howard I. Stites as city manager last spring was charged August 24 by City Treasurer Paul Selmi.

His allegation is supported by the list of payroll warrants approved by the city council and on record in the office of B. C. Ross, city clerk.

He added the salaries of five offiicals, and, from the total, deducted that of Dan Andersen, the former city administrator that Stites replaced.

Those five men, their positions, and their monthly salaries, are:

Stites, city manager, $1083.

Cyril F. Weiler, chief engineer, $613.

Jerome I. Scharfman, comptroller, $505.

Thomas N. Thaxton, assistant engineer, $376.

William J. Fitzpatrick, purchasing agent, $376.

These salaries add to $2953 monthly, or $35,436 a year.

Andersen received $600 monthly or $7,200 a year, and, subtracting his salary from the total for the five new men leaves $28,236 added to the payroll.

Additionally, Stites receives $75 a month car allowance, $900 a year.

Increase of $3600

The city payroll in June totaled $38,257.82. In August it was up to $41,898.79. This is an increase of more than $3,600 in two months.

However, last January, the city's payroll was nearly as high as now.

The monthly payroll totals, taken from the warrant book in the city clerk's office, show:

January—$41,573.26.
February—$39,802.83.
March—$39,936.84.
April—$41,788.39.
May—$38,374.15.
June—$38,257.82.
July—$40,367.68.
August—$41,893.79.

Sharply Reduced

Total city expenses are higher in August than in July but sharply reduced from January, February and March. These, for the calendar year 1955, so far, are:

January—$109,753.75.
February—$118,906.18.
March—$135,274.66.
April—$97,714.65.
May—$93,842.21.
June—$92,020.34.
July—$88,361.86.
August—$91,909.47.

Ambulance Policy Is Called For the individuals given the service.

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi suggested that the policy not be made on when to roll the ambulance on emergencies, but when to charge individuals transported by the vehicle.

Mayor Joseph Verducci agreed, holding that the ambulance should respond on all emergencies to protect the welfare of the citizens. "We might do untold harm by refusing to answer a call that later turned out to be serious," the mayor said.

Stites said one method to reduce cost of ambulance service might be to purchase a crash wagon with stretchers in the rear. This vehicle, he explained, could be used as a patrol car but could be dispatched immediately from duty to answer emergency calls. The manager also said the city might bill persons for ambulance service where it was not of public nature.

Verducci said an ambulance policy would be established later when all five councilmen were present. Councilmen Edward J. Dennis and Sanford Vickers were absent Monday.

lone no-vote was Councilman Edward Dennis. Del Wilson was absent because of illness.

Fahey's action in the Hilltop Lodge case appeals last week's decision by the alcoholic beverage control appeals board to uphold the original revocation of the tavern's liquor license.

Revocation went into effect Saturday, according to Norbert Falvey, alcohblic beverage control department supervising agent. Falvey added that the Hilltop Lodge may regain their liquor license under a stay of execution until final decision is reached in civil court.

"Narcotics" Upheld

Last week's appeal opinion reversed two of the charges in the April 7 decision but upheld the charge that Hilltop Lodge owners permitted illegal sale of narcotics on their licensed premises.

Two reversed decisions were that the appellants "permitted numerous fights and disturbances to occur in and about the premises" and "persons were permitted to become intoxicated and intoxicated persons were permitted to remain in and about the premises and to engage in numerous fights and disturbances." Both charges were limited to the time period of March 20, 1954, to September 21, 1954.

ceeded home in her car.

On the way home, a stranger who had been following Miss Erdtsieck for some distance, forced her car over to the side of the road, she declared. The stranger approached her car and asked her companions if they could drive. When Miss Erdtsieck's friends declared that Miss Erdtsieck was capable of driving, the stranger told the trio to continue.

Miss Erdtsieck said that the stranger told them he would follow as a safety measure.

The second time the stranger stopped her car was at 30th and Church streets in San Francisco where she stopped to leave her gentleman friend. This time the stranger asked Miss Erdtsieck to move over, which request she obliged.

He then questioned the victim of the theft on the street brawl until Miss Erdtsieck told him she was tired and wished to go home.

The stranger again reassured Miss Erdtsieck that he would follow her home.

On arrival at her home at 5:30 a.m., Miss Erdtsieck said that the stranger was waiting on her doorstep. It was not explained on the police report how he knew the address.

"How about some bacon and eggs?" the stranger asked her, Miss Erdtsieck reported.

Again she obliged the stranger.

During breakfast, Miss Erdtsieck declared that she asked the man for some identification. He promptly handed her release papers from the Texas State penitentiary where he said he served a 15-year sentence.

Miss Erdtsieck told officers that she had thought her guest to be a police officer.

The victim of the theft continued that at 7 a.m. she told the stranger that she was tired and wanted to sleep. She then invited her guest to sleep on the couch, which he did, she said.

When Miss Erdtsieck awoke at 10 a.m., she related that she found the stranger and $35 from her purse missing.

Daly City police are investigating her story.

LET'S ELIMINATE FUTURE FIASCOS

In the subidvision ordinance adopted recently by the City of Daly City, stringent requirements are made for subdividers to install adequate drainage systems.

Daly City has already suffered, and still has to suffer financially, over omissions or pure ignorance on the part of earlier administrations which failed to provide for adequate drainage.

The result is that the run-off area is diminished by residential growth, the flood problem becomes acute and the problem must be remedied—by time consuming and costly methods which involve tearing up sidewalks, streets and even homes.

In retrospect, it is readily apparent that such costly drainage excavations could be avoided by doing the job right in the first time.

Daly City's new subdivision ordinance is the tool to eliminate future drainage problems.

However, sadly, the ordinance has no power to govern developments in the unincorporated fringe areas which may later be annexed to this city.

We are referring specifically to the McKeon subdivision, which will include 4000 homes in a 375-acre site southwest of Daly City.

While the county has an ordinance governing drainage, it is not nearly as rigid as Daly City's law and sometimes county enforcement of the building statutes is lax.

Whether the McKeon subdivision is annexed to Daly City or not, this municipality will be the one to suffer if the run-off from the area is not controlled.

We feel reasonably assured that a developer of the magnitude of McKeon, experienced in mass-scaling building and acquainted with the needs of municipalities, will more than fulfill the committments required by the ordinances.

However, city and county officials should still be on the alert to insure that adequate drainage measures are taken in the new development, lest we be faced with future fiascos in the field of drainage such as those now being witnessed in Daly City.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

There is sure many a slip between the typewriter and the printing press. Last week we mentioned the four U. S. entries in the Venice Lion of St. Mark Sweepstakes, one of them being "Blackboard Jungle," MGM's hot contender for first prize. Well, this promising entry was scratched before it even reach the post, allegedly at the express wish of Ambassador Luce, who termed the film "too violent" and "derogatory" to America, and who was further quoted as saying, "It's got to be me or that picture."

The incident has been mentioned only briefly in the daily papers, and possibly it is not of great moment, however, to one interested in films it would appear that a rather dangerous precedent has been set.

Slings & Arrows

Hollywood has long been the focus of the slings and arrows of those who feel that it long ago lost touch with reality, indicated by a tendency to show every little shopgirl swathed in mink (honestly come by, of course) living luxuriously in a penthouse apartment and squired nightly to the more dazzling restaurants by impeccably dressed young men who never drive anything inferior to a Fleetwood Cadillac. So now, Hollywood comes forward with a strong film like "Blackboard Jungle," and finds that there are certain people in high places who don't like this type. Very frustrating.

Since the film did not imply that the conditions in "Jungle" were typical of the American school system, the objection seems to boil down to a feeling that pictures shown at the festivals should show America with it best foot forward. Once this line of thinking is accepted, it's just a step to where films for exports will be screened with the same thought in mind. This will automatically disqualify such pictures as "Death of a Salesman" (shows very depressing view of American salesmen's lives, and someday we'll tell you about the opposition that one had); "Streetcar Named Desire" (the nobility of Southern Womanhood, suh, is at stake); and of course "The Bad Seed" now in the making could never win an export license—it is the story of a child murderess. Heaven only knows what the Europeans would think of us if they saw that one.

Amusing Aspects

The incident also has its amusing aspects. "The Big Knife," best American entry now that "Jungle" has been scratched, pictures life in the Hollywood jungle, and as for "The Kentuckian," permit us to quote a recent press release on this one: "Faro, the hound dog which shares acting honors with Burt Lancaster, Diana Lynn and Dianne Foster——." Need we say anything more?

It looks as though Madame Ambassador has pulled a boo-boo. It sort of consoles us for having done the same—we misquoted the date of the Festival!

Good News. . . The Daly City Theatre has reopened. September 7, 8, 9 and 10 you can catch up to "The High and the Mighty" and "River of No Return," all on one bill. Then beginning Sunday, the 11th, and playing through the 13th will be "Three Coins in the Fountain" and "Dragnet," the former being one of the most beautiful films in quite some time, thanks to its scenes of Rome and Venice.

There is nothing more depressing to a neighborhood than a dark theatre. We are happy to see it bright again.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Broadmoor Rec Worker Lauds Record Coverage

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

This will be just a short letter to tell you how grateful I am for the publicity you gave to the Broadmoor summer recreation program in the August 4 issue of THE RECORD. It has proved very helpful in advertising our activities and attracting new participants from among the young people in our community.

My term as director of the playground has now been completed, and the attached copy of a letter I addressed to the board of directors of the Broadmoor Property owners association clearly expresses my feelings concerning this very worthwhile project. I should like to suggest that all of those civic-minded persons who took a helpful personal interest in the program are deserving of commendation.

Yours sincerely,
Robert L. Lincoln

Back Yard Setting For Novel Camp Experiment

A unique experiment in living "outdoors" took place last week in the backyard of a home in the Sterling Park area in Colma.

In the spacious yard of Mrs. Connie Nofziger, 570 Clark street, 14 Girl Scouts and Brownies of Troops 154 and 192 who couldn't attend summer camp got in their fresh-air training in a novel program originated by Leaders Mrs. Melda Brown and Mrs. Mildred Christiano.

Starting Monday, August 31, and lasting thru Friday, September 2, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily, the agenda of activities included everything from a lecture on fire regulations to making earrings out of eucalyptus acorns.

Camp Overnight

Capping the program was a camp-out Thursday night, as the 14 girls prepared their own dinner, slept in sleeping bags under the stars, and awoke to eat blackberries they had picked a day earlier, along with the traditional bacon and eggs, cooked over the outdoor fire.

Mrs. Brown, who helped instigate the program with the help of her leaders and the local troop camp committee, explains that the backyard outing helps make up the training the girls lost by not attending day camp. In fact the overnight stay at the Clark street home counts as an official overnight, making the girls eligible for summer camp.

Among activities participated in by the girls were a picnic at Sigmund Stern Grove, a hike, picking blackberries, study of flowers, a talk on fire regulations, arts and crafts, including making floral decorations, fashioning of pins, earrings, bracelets and necklaces with eucalyptus acorns, shopping for their own groceries, cooking over a camp fire, first aid training, and otherwise taking part in programs generally held at summer camp.

40c A Meal

Going to a neighborhood store on several occasions, the girls purchased their own provisions, and cost per meal was estimated at 40 cents, not bad for beginners.

"We think it's something new in Scouting," said Mrs. Brown. "It's been tremendously successful and other troops are considering 'backyard camping' in the future, when it's impossible to send all their girls to camp."

Since most of the girls are just in the "fly-up" stage of Scouting, the activities did not officially count as part of their achievements toward earning second class rank.

However, as Mrs. Brown explanied it, "Everything they did was building up to these tests. We tried to duplicate the regular camping program as close as possible."

Girls taking part in the novel experiment were: Linda Nofziger, Marilyn Brown, Gail Offenbach, Maureen Holly, Carol Bernardini, Judith Anderson, Joann Doyle, Sharon Carr, Linda Offenbach, Susan Kirschner, Christina Christiano, Marie Horne and Gail Young.

In addition to Mesdames Brown and Christiano, other women who aided considerably in seeing the project through were: Mrs. Doris Offenbach, Mrs. Nofziger, Mrs. Marie Young, Mrs. Marie Rusert, R. N., Mrs. Lillian Bernardini, Mrs. Eleanor Doyle and Mrs. Kay Anderson.

From the success enjoyed by the local outing, back-yard camping may be springing up on many private residences next summer.

Gov. Knight Replies To Writ Demanding Assembly Election

Governor Goodwin Knight filed answer Thursday in state supreme court to a writ demanding that a special election be called in the 25th Assembly district, northern San Mateo county.

Filed by Thomas Jenkins of Broadmoor, democratic candidate for the Assembly if the election is called, Edna Calhan of Sharp Park and Bob Buchanan of Broadmoor, the writ of mandamus alleged that it was the governor's constitutional duty to fill the legislative vacancy created by resignation this year of Daniel J. Creedon.

The governor's answer, prepared by Attorney General Edmund "Pat" Brown, maintained that while it was constitutionaly defined as a duty of the governor to call such elections, the courts had no authority to require the governor's action. Brown said such action was solely within the executive power and that the governor had to answer only to the people, not to the courts.

The court will probably decide within 10 days whether to grant a hearing on the plaintiff's demand that the governor call an election.

Jenkins says if a special election is ordered, the position could be filled by late October, giving the winning candidate plenty of time to give representation to the district by serving on special committees, the general and budget sessions.

Local Youth Leaves For San Diego And US Navy Training

Don Fanthorpe, son of the Reverend and Mrs. Fred Fanthorpe of 787 Mayfair avenue, recently enlisted in the Navy's special high school graduate training program.

Fanthrope, achieved an unusually high score on his entrance test and should be proud of his outstanding record upon entry into the U. S. Navy.

He is a graduate of Burbank High school and was an active member of the school radio club.

Fanthrope is now in San Diego undergoing nine weeks of recruit training. Upon completion he will return home for about two weeks of leave and then will be sent to one of the Navy's electronic schools for specialized training under the high school graduate program.

D. A. Mele, the local Navy representative who accepted Don's application for enlistment, announced that several new attractive programs are available for immediate enlistment in the Navy and unlimited opportunities are offered young men in the fields of electronics, aviation and other highly specialized professions. Full information is available at the Navy recruiting office located in the Federal Office Building, phone MA. 1-3828, Ext. 462.

Daly City Awarded Plaque From Knight For Accident Rate

A special plaque was presented Daly City Monday by Governor Goodwin J. Knight for winning first place in their population group, 10,000 to 25,000, for the Inter-City Accident Prevention contest conducted from Memorial Day through August 15.

Councilman Sanford Vickers was on hand to accept an appropriate plaque from Governor Knight at special ceremonies conducted in the grandstand of the California State Fair and Exposition in Sacramento on Labor Day.

Sponsors of this contest are the California Association of Insurance Agents; coordinators are the National Automobile club; and administrators are the National Safety Council.

This program was conducted with 184 cities participating, which were segregated into seven population groups. The contest was judged on the least number of fatalities by judges who were selected by the National Safety Council. This program was instituted for the first time this year as a part of the summer-long speed control program which has been conducted in California over the past eight years by the sponsoring groups. "We point with pride to the fact that in the City of Daly City, a very effective project on speed control was being conducted by the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association, who are the local sponsors. We know there has been a concerted effort by the remaining 92 local insurance associations, the local police departments, local governmental agencies and the California Highway Patrol in lowering the accicities participating, as the National Safety Council advises that 74 cities went through the period without a traffic fatality. Of course, the winner in each population group was selected by the least number of fatalities and the top population," the Safety Council concluded.

COPS ARREST YOUTHS ON CAR BOOST COUNT

Six out-of-town boys were arrested by local police Sunday afternoon for questioning on recent car boosting here. Three of the youths admitted to car boosting and were transferred to Hillcrest Juvenile home, while three others denied participation and were released to the custody of their parents.

The boys were caught when Mrs. Robert Rafter, 12 Second avenue, phoned police after seeing the youths tampering with a car owned by a neighbor, Julio Francesconi, 8 Second avenue.

When officers arrived a few minnutes later, they caught the boys red-handed with the evidence in their car. Besides three hub caps from Francesconi's auto, police found five other stolen hub caps.

Daly City Carpenter Is Arrested On Drunk Count

A local carpenter was booked on a charge of being drunk Saturday night and released the following morning.

Edward A. Nelson, 33, was arrested by police when they were called to his home, 83 Shakespeare street.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

PERSONALITY SKETCH . . . With a background of colorful maps on the wall showing network television and radio coverage . . . a telephone that rings rather frequently with calls from NBC in New York, Chicago and Hollywood . . . we found busy working at his desk, Ed Dunbar, account executive for NBC network radio and television sales, and another Daly City resident.

Radiating enthusiasm for his position and about the future of television and radio he was an interesting person to interview. In fact he was so enthusiastic about exciting new shows on the NBC network this fall, it was difficult to pin him down to talk about himself. In his position, Ed contacts advertising agencies and possible sponsors in the western region of the United States giving them information about programs and interesting them in possible sponsorship.

A native of the bay area, Ed graduated from high school in Oakland and San Francisco State college in 1952 with a major in speech and minor courses in radio and television. His college career was interrupted by two years with the Navy in Guam. While he was attending college he secured a part-time position with NBC guest relations staff, moving on to a position with KNBC advertising and promotion department. He then advanced to his present position with the network.

The Dunbars live in Westlake Highlands, and have been residents of this area for approximately a year and a half. His wife, Jane, whom he met during college, is a teacher, and taught a sixth grade class in San Mateo county prior to her marriage. They have a small daughter, Kathy, 2½ years old.

Questioned about hobbies, Ed admitted that he likes "collecting things" . . . anything small with the idea in mind that "someday I might use it." Seriously he did confess that he is interested in gardening, and is now busy working to make his yard attractive. Asked how he liked living in our area, he said, he is really impressed with the beautiful, well-kept homes and is glad he lives in the community.

TEEN-AGERS CORNER

There is a group of young people who have been somewhat neglected by producers of television and radio programs . . . that restless age of the teens. So we were glad to hear that KQED had added to their schedule a program that is suitable for them.

This "live" weekly show called "Tempest in a Test Tube" is seen over Channel 9 Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. With actual experiments to prove basic principles of chemistry carried on before the cameras, the program promises to be of value to youngsters studying chemistry, and to any individuals who have an interest in science. The program is presented by the California section of the American Chemical society, and narrator is Harry Sello, research chemist at Shell Development Company in Emeryville.

According to Mr. Sello, "There's a lot more to chemistry than just bangs and booms, without being dangerous," and he plans to illustrate and explain this wider application. We watched the second program called "Fire and Flame." We were fascinated by the various experiments and the basic principles that were proven.

However, we were conscious of a production problem that we felt made the program less effective. We found that the experiments did not show up over the television as clearly as we felt they should. We wonder if this condition could be corrected by the use of some sort of a background with more contrast. We hope this situation will improve because we believe the program has great possibilities.

"DAVID'S PARADE" ON NBC's MONITOR PROGRAM— An interesting sidelight on "David's Parade" was that it was broadcast the same day it happened over MONITOR, NBC's outstanding weekend radio service. Jerry Gordon, free lance correspondent for Monitor, taped an on-the-spot interview with Nancy Lamb, [illegible] reporter and David Steward as well as a description of the parade. Mr. Gordon rushed back to KNBC with what he felt was a fine human interest story and called the network in New York. The officials there felt so too, because instead of following the usual procedure of having the story broadcast at a later date, they arranged to have it broadcast over "Monitor" the same day. So only a few hours later, the story and interviews went coast to coast over the NBC network.

COMING PROGRAMS . . . A new local public service program will premiere over KRON-TV on Sunday, September 11, at 2:30 p.m. called "The Wall Outside." The program produced in cooperation with the Northern California Service League wil report on misdemeanors and petty crimes as well as what is being done to rehabilitate offenders. Superior Judge Orla St. Clair will host the series.

On Sunday, September 18, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., the first of a new series of outstanding British motion pictures will be seen over ABC-TV and KGO-TV. The films have never before been viewed on television and will include some of the finest motion pictures ever produced in England.

COAST SCIENTISTS TOPIC FOR SUNDAY

The vital importance of understanding God as the source of all true substance will be brought out at Chrstian Science services this Sunday at Sharp Park.

Readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (335:12): "Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God. Things spiritual and eternal are substantial. Things material and temporal are insubstantial."

The indestructible nature of spiritual substance is also stressed in selections to be read from the Bible, including the following: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it" (Eccl. 3:14 to 2d:).

The Golden Text is from John (6:27): "Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed."

Meet the Scotts who set up housekeeping in Yuba City in 1935
20 YEARS AGO—when Sam and Dorothy Scott were married, they had just seven appliances: range, water heater, refrigerator, mixer, radio, electric iron, waffle iron.
TODAY—their comfortable home has 19 appliances: larger refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, range, mixer, 2 radios, sandwich grill, electric iron, toaster, waffle iron, electric clock, television, gas furnace, larger water heater, electric heating pad, electric razor, washer, coffee maker, record player. Also, their lighting has been improved.

Today they buy $12 worth of gas and electricity for $7
...because the average unit cost is about ⅓ less than it was in 1935
Most Californians, like the Scotts, have added gas and electric servants over the years. The average California home uses three times as much gas and electricity as twenty years ago. Naturally, your total bill may be higher, but the average price of a kilowatt hour of electricity and a cubic foot of gas is about one-third less than in 1935, thanks to mass production economies. As a result, the Scott's gas and electric bill in a recent month was $7.24. In 1935 the same amount would have cost over $12. And this same saving will most likely apply to your own bill. Can you think of any other prices that are lower today than 20 years ago? No wonder we say . . .

Father John Des Rosiers officiated at the Nuptial Mass.

The bride's gown was fashioned of satin and lace. The bodice was of dainty floral motifs of lace with the same motif repeated on the three-tiered skirt. The simple tailored bodice had a tiny lace peter pan collar and the long sleeves came to a slender point.

Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara crown and featured the same floral motif as in the dress. The circular bouquet was of carnations, stefanophis and lecton with a corsage of white begonias arranged in an arc.

Something old was a favorite handkerchief given the bride on her thirteenth birthday, and something borrowed was a rosary bracelet from the groom's grandmother.

Miss Marilyn Follari acted as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were the Misses Patricia Coffee, Pauline Lugliani, Joan and Frances Holecek.

All attendants wore cocktail-length gowns of flocked nylon over taffeta acetate, styled much like the bride's dress. Miss Follari's gown was white nylon over apple green taffeta, and the other attendants wore dresses of apple green nylon over taffeta.

The maid of honor's bouquet was of cherise pink, and the others were of pale pink accented with the same color roses as were in Miss Follari's bouquet.

The bride's sister, Peggy Jean Holecek, carried out flower girl duties. She was gowned in a smaller edition of the maid of honor's dress.

Harold C. Coffee, Jr., served as best man, while ushers' duties were taken by William Craig, William Winfred, Fred Perazzo and Oscar Benjamin Peralto.

A reception in Sokol hall in San Francisco followed the wedding.

Reservoir Overflows; Floods E. Vista Area

Two homes on East Vista avenue suffered slight damage when Daly City Reservoir No. 2 overflowed early Wednesday morning.

Fireman Dick May responded to the home of Carmen Boscoe, 149 East Vista, at 4:44 a.m. after several hundred gallons spilled over the side of the reservoir and flowed down the hill through backyards of Boscoe's home and a residence at 147 East Vista. Boscoe reported that his basement was also flooded.

May dug a channel and routed the water to the street.

Damage was only slight, according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

Apparently, Kennedy said, the water overflowed when the reservoir float was blocked by a piece of wood.

Major Carberry Given Going Away Party By Family In Westlake

Major and Mrs. Edmund Carberry were feted by friends and members of their family Saturday afternoon in a going-away party at the Westlake clubhouse.

The function, given by Major Carberry's brother, Robert, and two sisters, Miriam and Lorraine Carberry, 158 Westbrook avenue, was held in advance of the major's departure for the orient this month.

Nearly 100 guests were in attendance, enjoying refreshments and a buffet supper.

Only Holiday Arrest In Broadmoor Was For Drunk Driving

Broadmoor police district closed out the Labor Day weekend with a clean slate, as Chief Ray Savage reported no motor vehicle accidents, no arrests and no thefts.

Only untoward incident occurred after the three-day holiday was officially over, at 12:05 a.m. Tuesday, when Savage arrested a state personnel interviewer on charges of drunken driving.

Savage said Jack Ward Thiesen, 37, of 256 San Gabriel street, San Francisco, was proceeding north on Junipero Serra boulevard in an "erratic" manner.

The chief said when he signalled Thiesen to pull over, the driver stopped his vehicle right in the middle of the boulevard. A sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital proved positive results, Savage said.

Thiesen was released on $263 bail and scheduled to appear on the charge September 15 at 9:30 a.m. before municipal judge Thomas L. Bocci.

Junk Man Pleads Not Guilty To Drunk, Vag Charges

A 36-year-old San Francisco junk man, who police say has a voluminous record of previous arrests, entered a plea of not guilty in municipal court yesterday to charges of vagrancy and drunkenness in Daly City early Wednesday morning.

Local police arrested Stanley Spencer Newberry Whitney, 1941 Mission street, also known as Edward E. Davis, at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday morning in front of 7577 Mission street, after Broadmoor police reported that the suspect was prowling around a used car lot.

Confronted by Sgt. Dave Hansen, Whitney apparently gave a confused answer to his reason for being on the car lot premises. Hansen said all types of auto accessories were found in the trunk and seats of Whitney's car.

On booking, Whitney became belligerent, Hansen said.

Pleading not guilty yesterday to both charges, Whitney's case was set for September 15. Bail was set at $500.

Local police are placing a hold on Whitney for San Jose where a bench warrant is out for his arrest. According to local police, they did not know on what charge Whitney was wanted in San Jose because his previous record was "four pages long and too lengthy to send over the teletype."

District Requests State Approval For Benjamin Franklin School Bids

State approval for the issuance of bids for the proposed Benjamin Franklin school in Broadmoor is expected momentarily, according to H. Z. Weibel, Jefferson Elementary school district superintendent.

Weibel said today that the district received evidence of site ownership Saturday from the San Mateo county title company, and that request was immediately made to Sacramento.

The superintendent predicted that the Benjamin Franklin school will be ready to open in a little more than a year.

Name Irving Saraf To Conduct W'lake Temple School

Irving Saraf, recent graduate of UCLA, has recently been appointed to conduct the Westlake Temple Hebrew school. Saraf has just moved here with his wife and is now enrolled as a student at San Francisco State college. He comes to Westlake Temple from the Religious school of Temple Israel in Hollywood, where he taught during the three years that he lived in that city.

Before coming to this country, Saraf, who was born in Poland, lived in Israel for 15 years and during the hostilities in which Israel became an independent state, he served as an officer in the Israeli army.

It is through the cooperation of the Jewish Education society of San Francisco that Saraf is being made available to Westake Temple. He will conduct the Weekday school on Tuesdays and Thursday afternoons. These classes—a part of the religious school program—are open to children whose parents wish them to have a more intensive Hebrew training than can be given on Sunday morning. Saraf will also teach the high school department on Sunday morning.

Registered in Westlake Temple Religious school are children residing in the southern sections of the city and in northern San Mateo county. Car pools are being organized for both the Sunday sessions and weekday sessions. Further information may be had and registrations may be made by calling the Temple office at PL. 5-9463.

Attention is called to limited number of seats available for High Holydays. Anyone interested in Temple membership and/or seats for the Holydays should phone the Temple office immediately, said Santor Harold Wachter.

Tickets for the "Post Yom Kippur Nite Dance" at Forest Lodge Sept. 26 are now available at the Temple Office.

Jitneys "Doing OK" Councilman Claims

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, pointing out that the Northgate Transit Co.'s jitneys were "doing very good," called on the council Monday night to help publicize the firm's transportation service.

"I think we should help publicize the routes and fares like we did for the No. 76 Municipal bus," DeBernardi declared.

City Manager Howard Stites said the jitneys could increase business more by identifying their vehicles with a uniform color. He indicated the state public utilities commission would probably require this, before approving application for the jitneys to operate in the unincorporated areas.

Stites also said that the jitneys would have to have an emergency exit on their latest bus-type vehicle, a 12-passenger Volkswagen.

Mayor Joseph Verducci called on Stites to check on insurance carried by the jitneys.

Stites reminded the council that before the jitneys hearing for PUC certificate comes up October 20, "We'll have to solve this municipal bus problem." Stites said Municipal Railway, which is operating the No. 76 bus in Westlake under subsidy of Henry Doelger, may oppose the jitney application. "We should work this out with Doelger and the Muni before the hearing," Stites said.

The jitneys are currently operating here under a 90-day trial period which will be up October 3.

Stites Named Consultant For Cities League Meet

City Manager Howard Stites has been named as consultant for cities in the 5000-25,000 population bracket at the League of California Cities 57th annual convention to be held September 18 through 21 in San Francisco.

Stites' appointment was announced by the League this week.

The Daly City manager will serve as consultant September 20 at a session on "Challenge of Growth Within Cities," which will be presided over by Charles W. Petit, Ventura mayor.

SCAVENGER'S TRUCK AVOIDS SPEEDING CAR; STRIKES PARKED AUTO

A Daly City Scavenger, driving a half-ton pickup truck, crashed into a parked car on Hillcrest drive Monday morning when he tried to avoid an unidentified auto which came speeding through the intersection from Santa Cruz avenue.

Officers said that the accident occurred when Vincent J. Marsili, 30, 423 89th street, Colma, going west on Hillcrest, slammed on the brakes of his truck to avoid hitting the speeding car.

The damaged parked car was registered to Rosella M. Stewart, 42, driving instructor, 199 Santa Cruz avenue.

Trial for Wesley Emmett, 39, 390-88th street, Colma, was continued yesterday (Thursday) until next Tuesday morning. Emmett pleaded not guilty to charges of molesting a six-year-old child.

Yesterday Emmett, who demanded a jury trial, again denied the charges and claimed that he had only lifted the child to "show her the horses." Charges state that Emmett grabbed and molested the girl as she passed his house on the way home from a movie.

Both the alleged victim and her companion, another child, identified Emmett from a police lineup, according to Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage.

SIZE FOR STURGEON 50-INCH MINIMUM TO BE ASKED

On the basis of extensive studies of the California sturgeon population made last year by the Department of Fish and Game, an increase in the present 40-inch minimum size limit to 50 inches will be recommended next year.

Director Seth Gordon, in a report to the Fish and Game Commission, said that the studies showed a 40-inch sturgeon usually weighs only 15 pounds, while a fish ten inches longer averages about 35 pounds.

In addition, the sturgeon undergoes its period of most rapid growth between 40 and 50 inches in length. Other factors in the request include an apparent extreme fluctuation in spawning success.

The report showed that at least 50 per cent of the entire sturgeon population now consists of six and sixteen-year-old fish, and that there were virtually no fish between the ages of eight and fourteen years.

The female sturgeon is not believed to spawn until about 12 years of age, or about the same time the fish reach the suggested 50 inch minimum size.

On the basis of returns from 1,003 sturgeon tagged in San Pablo Bay last year, the Department has estimated the total population in that area last fall at from 9,000 to 16,000 fish. This will not be seriously depleted by angling under new regulations which prohibit snagging, the report stated.

The season was opened last year for the first time in 34 years. Previously the sturgeon had been close to extinction because of unlimited commercial fishing early in the century.

The world's largest known block of salt, with estimated reserves of 500 million tons, is being developed in the Dominican Republic.

ENLISTS IN NAVY

Richard Coffman, son of Mr. Orin Coffman of 98 Windsor drive, Daly City, recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy.

Richard is now in San Diego undergoing nine weeks of recruit training which will prepare him for his active role in the U. S. Navy. Upon completion of training he will come home for about two weeks of leave prior to reporting for duty in the fleet. Present at Richard's departure was his aunt, Virginia Coffman, who made a special trip from Dayton, Ohio, for the swearing in ceremony.

P. S. Sojda, local Navy representative who accepted Richard's application for enlistment, announced that the Navy has unlimited opportunities in various fields of electronics, ordnance and aviation for career-minded young men. Opportunities are unlimited in the Navy at the present time.

Further detailed information may be obtained at the Navy recruiting station located in the Federal Office Building, phone MA. 1-3828, Ext. 462.

Read II Timothy 1:1-7.

Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me. And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life. (John 5:39, 40.)

The late H. G. Wells tells a story he called "The Pearl of Love." A young prince of North India married a beautiful princess. After a year she died. He resolved to erect a worthy monument. The body was placed in a stone coffin, and over it a building begun. Each year more was added, keeping in the structure a central aisle. The prince called in an archtect to plan for future development. He told the prince that one thing marred the harmony along the aisle. It was the stone coffin. Could it be removed? "Yes," replied the prince, "take it away." He overlooked the original purpose of the building.

The Pharisees asked Jesus why His disciples did not walk after the tradition of the elders. He replied that the elders had left the commandments of God to walk by the traditions of men. However, His disciples were forsaking the tradition of men to follow the commandments of God. So must every generation of Christians.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, sometimes in serving Thee we think of the measure of our successes and fail to honor Thee. Help us not merely to point people to Christ but also to live so close to Him that we can take them with us into His presence. May Jesus Christ be all in all to us. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

I pray my religion may be not a form but a force.

again and determine where to secure funds for the drainage project.

Stites said present storm drains in the area were of "no use whatsoever."

Joseph Schultz, 548 Atlanta street, inquired, "Shouldn't these drains have been inspected by the city?"

Stites said, "sometimes there's not enough time taken on these jobs." Asked by Schultz if such an engineering mistake could get past the city again, Stites said, "No, we have an engineering department now."

"The only way something like this can happen is when a city engineer also works for a builder," added Councilman Del Wilson.

"You can be assured it won't happen again," Stites reiterated.

FETE SILVESTRI ON NIGHT OF HOLE IN ONE TOURNEY

Marian Council, Knights of Columbus, will honor Daniel J. "Bob" Silvestri with a testimonial banquet on October 1.

The occasion of this gala affair will be the opening night of the local Council's hole-in-one golf tournament to be held at the Colma Driving Range from October 1 through 9. Silvestri was chosen by the Council as their local athlete of the year for his many successes on the golf course.

The hole-in-one tournament, originally scheduled to be held earlier in September, has been continued to October 1 because of the California State Amateur Championship play to be held at Pebble Beach, and the continuance will thus enable many fine golfers, otherwise unable to participate, to attend this local function, according to the Council.

There will be many awards for contestants, totalling $2000 in value. Hourly prizes will be awarded, as well as nightly prizes for the best shot of the night, plus the grand prize for the person scoring a hole-in-one.

Arrangements are being handled by Judge Tom Bocci, chairman, who is being assisted by Jack Crofton, Grank Knight of the Council.

"Golf Tips" Column Debuts Next Issue

How's your golf game? Admittedly, it could be better.

Starting next week THE RECORD will bring its readers a weekly column, "Golf Tips," written by Bill McArthur, professional at the newly-opened Treasure Island Golf Driving Range.

McArthur, a professional for 15 years, has worked under some of the country's top golf teachers, including Dick Metz, at Laskers, Lake Forest, Ill., and Johnnie Rebolta, Evanston, Ill. Coming to California 15 months ago, McArthur served one year as assistant pro under Ev Goulart at Crystal Springs.

Thirty-five years old, McArthur started the game as a caddy at the age of 12. Since that time his entire career has been devoted to "making a real art" of the game of golf and instruction of it.

As a caddy McArthur carried the bags for Horton Smith, where he picked up his knowledge about the short game and putting. In his teaching now, McArthur tries to emulate the technique of Rebolta, whom he considers the "finest teacher the game ever produced."

His column, "Golf Tips," will be a regular weekly feature in THE RECORD. Watch for it next week.

Treasure Island Golf Range Opening In Progress Today

Grand opening of the Treasure Island Golf Range, 1650 El Camino Real, just south of Daly City, will be held Thursday and Friday of this week, announces Fred Bertetta of Westlake, president.

In conjunction with the driving range opening, the Treasure Island Gas Station will also begin pumping gas.

They are: Ev Goulart, Crystal Springs; Ken Towns, Fort Lewis; Bill Lawes, Lake Merced; Vince Holian, Lake Merced; Art Loezes, Green Hills; Leroy Silva, Peninsula; and Tony Clecak, Silverado. In addition, many top Bay Area amateurs will be on hand, Bertetta said.

"Treasure Chest" drawings will be held, with buckets of balls, lessons, golf clubs and balls to be given away, said Bill McArthur, professional at the new range.

The gas station will give away tickets on two new Oldsmobiles.

In addition, effective last Friday, free drawing will be held nightly at 7 p.m. until further notice.

In addition to Bertetta, other officers of the driving range include Ed Goldkuhl, vice president, and Daly City Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, secretary.

Citizens Group Urges Re-Opening Johnstone Case

about him "may come to a lawsuit."

Bodien then read a letter sent him September 6 by Robert A. Klassen, city engineer at the time the Brunswick project was initiated.

The letter read, "I cannot imagine a more incorrect or asinine statement than that you as superintendent of public works 'did allow' the expenditure for opening and improving Brunswick street. I drew the plans and specifications for the project. I had charge of all the work done except the work done this year. To my knowledge you, in your official capacity never came into any discussion about this project.

"Surely the mayor, all the city councilmen and the city manager are not so stupid as to believe that any superintendent of public works has authority to 'allow' such an expenditure."

"Another Lie"

Bodien also said the statement that he "had an axe to grind" because he was dismissed as an employee of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district was "another lie."

"I turned over my badge because I didn't want to work more than four hours a day. Maybe I heard too many things down there by a couple of the directors who are your city councilmen," he continued.

Bodien said city employees who worked part-time for the district had asked for and been denied a raise, while Directors Sanford Vickers and Edward Dennis "jumped their own salaries from $10 a meeting to $25 for just a couple of hours work."

That commission form of government was outmoded, as stated in the council's answer last week. "Seems funny," said Bodien, "Since the mayor appointed commissioners until the city manager came here. He must have thought it was good before Stites was here."

Bodien also lashed out at the lack of civil defense preparedness here, and called on the organization to help organize a local unit.

The council's charge that another members of the Better Government group, City Treasurer Paul Selmi, had "an axe to grind" was denied by Selmi in a lengthy statement.

"Flagrant Disregard"

"I am happy to take part in this fight against the most flagrant disregard for human rights and for the ridiculous and wasteful spending by our council."

He said new positions established in the city in past few months would raise annual cost of salaries in excess of $40,000 per year.

He said cost of the new engineering department will be in excess of $19,000 annually, and that the city would have to create projects of $237,000 a year to keep these men working.

"That is what I mean by ridiculous and wasteful spending."

Selmi said holding of the tax rate this year at the same rate as 1954-55 was a "cunning politician's" maneuver.

He said right now the council was "frantically" trying to think up methods to raise money to carry on their wasteful spending. He claimed that if this program of spending was not stopped, the tax rate "must go up. We proposed to see that it doesn't."

He maintained that the increase in assessed valuation here should provide enough revenue to run the city government if it was managed right.

"The Real Issue"

"The real issue," Selmi continued, "Is will we allow inexperienced, unqualified city councilmen to continue in office to waste our money and totally disregard the majority opinion of our people?"

Selmi challenged the mayor to prove that he initiated the idea for a raise for the treasurer as declared in the council's statement. He also denied that he had asked to take over busines license collections.

Al Pettigrew, local gas station proprietor, took issue with the council's proposal to charge a $10 annual overnight parking permit.

Commenting on the city's campaign to tag all cars parked on the wrong side of the street or not properly blocked on hills, Pettigrew asked if money from these tickets couldn't help offset costs of government. "Does all this money go to the city or does the court get 25 per cent."

Selmi said all the money went into the city's general fund.

The council's formal answer to the political group's original charges, "Must have been written by someone else," said Pettigrew. "I know the councilmen couldn't have written it, but the people can read between the lines."

Mayor & 49ers

He added that, "Verducci must have an axe to grind, criticizing thousands of San Francisco 49ers fans. (Verducci wrote an article questioning the value of special "Days" for important athletes.)"

Pettigrew said the bad part about the article was that in all the newspapers, it mentioned that Verducci was Daly City's mayor. "Other people might construe these statements to be that of the people of Daly City."

Pettigrew then rallied to the defense of his uncle, ousted police inspector Dave Johnstone. "I defy the council to deny a re-hearing." He said he was "proud" of his uncle.

"Does the civil service board of review have an 'axe to grind' too?" Pettigrew inquired, pointing out that they had absolved Johnstone of any wrong doing. "If so," he went on, "I think the majority of the people in Daly City are in that category."

John Drye, 148 Wilsire, unsuccessful candidate for council at the last election, said that, "Public opinion had changed tremendously in the last three or four months. The dictatorial form of government started much faster than we anticipated. Public demonstration is necessary."

"Talk To Friends,"

Frank Tardelli, 26 East Moltke, said, "We've got to talk to our friends and neighbors. This town has a great possibility if it's run right. If we can get first hand information we can whip this thing."

Louis Dove, former member of the Daly City police department, said, "I've found out about a lot of changes since Stites came here. As far as Johnstone is concerned, they should have got rid of a couple other guys in the department, not him."

Pettigrew interjected that "There's an officer in the department who has had many protests lodged against him but they haven't done anything about it." The gas station owner said his year's probationary period as an officer was up and nobody had done anything about it.

An inquiry by a member of the audience if city employees would be allowed to attend the group's meetings was answered by Bodien, who said, "It's an open group. You can pass the word along that city employees can attend if they want to."

Invite City Employees

A motion was then passed that the entire city employees organization be invited to the next meeting.

During the meeting, the membership unanimously approved bylaws which provide for annual election of officers in October, membership open to any resident, taxpayer or businessman. Purpose was declared to be, "To become familiar with governmental policies and to seek out and encourage qualified persons to become candidates for election to office in Daly City."

Publicity committee consisting of Selmi, Pettigrew, Dove and Tardelli was appointed.

The group will meet again Wednesday, September 21, at the same location.

Fleet Backs, Mammoth Line Bolster McGrath's Hopes For Jeff Grid Club

A mammoth line short on experience and a reasonably fleet backfield with a variety of talent is a sapsule description of Coach Joe McGrath's 1955 varsity football team taking shape at Jefferson High school.

Pre-season sign-ups have brought 53 names to the fold, out of which 15 are veterans, seven first string, from last year's next-to-last place varsity club.

By the time official practice opens September 12, Coach Joe expects to have more than 60 youngsters battling for positions.

Of those already signed up, practically 90 per cent have had some football experience, either on the varsity or frosh-soph eleven.

Without benefit of practice to broaden his opinion, McGrath is counting on a solid block of seniors up from last year's team to carry most of the load.

Straight T Again

Joe will be running the straight-T formation for the fifth straight year. His backfield T tools include right half Ron O'Rourke, a 175-pound fourth year man who alternated last year at first string with Del Hamann. A better than average sprinter, O'Rourke has football savvy and figures to go both ways in the McGrath strategy.

Fullback spot will probably go to Tex Prentice, a hard running, pass snaring 165-pound senior who served in the No. 1 slot last season.

Probably McGrath's strongest backfield workhorse will be Jim Honeywell at right half, a seasoned campaigner who weighs 185.

Despite intermittent injuries last year, Honeywell went on to become the club's top ground gainer for the third straight year, eating up over 600 yards of record-book turf.

Move To Quarter

Honeywell will probably be moved to quarter back to engineer the team, if no talent shows from the frosh-soph line-up. The fact that he's a more than adequate passer will help him out in the QB spot.

Bob Grubb, McGrath's off and on 185-pound first string quarterback last year, will be moved to guard to bolster a line sagging on the experience side. Grubb will operate as linebacker on defense and call the defensive strategy. He's also one of the team's top blockers.

The fourth backfield job is still in doubt, but several varsity returnees and frosh-soph graduates have the opportunity to make themselves a starting post.

Harold Funkhouser, a third-team man on the '54 varsity, figures as a possible for the backfield role. Only 145 pounds, Funkhouser is good to have around on the quick opening plays.

Al Leveroni, a whiz of a pitcher in frosh-soph baseball, will be tried out by McGrath in the secondary, chiefly because of his throwing ability.

Another frosh-soph veteran, George Domenici, 180-pound junior, may find some work at the fullback position.

A dark-horse in the back spot is Jerry Howard, senior who transferred here this spring. A sprinter and hurdler, he's a possible.

Mike White, FS tailback last year, is a hard runner, while Lee Tyler wore a varsity jersey last year as fourth string fullback.

A Real Potential

A real potential, McGrath says, is Dave Calloway, transfer from Polytechnic High in San Francisco, who played first string halfback on the varsity there last year as a sophomore. Only a 150-pounder, Calloway is nevertheless squat and powerful and a strong contender for the first string backfield.

Roy Corner is another halfback up from the frosh-soph.

McGrath will rely on returning lettermen Al Arneson, Don Wiesner, Herman Kihs and Brad Brown in his forward wall.

Wiesner, at 200 pounds, is a cinch to hold on to his first string offensive center duties he held last year. He'll work some as end on defense.

Kihs, a 230-pound goliath, also was a starter last year as defensive tackle. Not too fast, Kihs is rough and tough. McGrath has ordered Kihs to get down to 185 pounds, where he'll really be a threat to opposing backfields with the added speed.

Brad Brown keeps the Jefferson No. 1 line on the elephantine side, weighing in at 240 at the defensive middle guard slot. Slow last year, Brown took up wrestling and won the school heavyweight championship. The efforts have quickened his speed and responses.

Arneson, a second-stringer, lettered last year at end. At 6', 160 pounds, the rangy Arneson, though slow, is probably the best pass receiver on the squad.

Other Bright Spots

Linemen who failed to letter last year but appear as possible bright spots in McGrath's 1955 plans include Ronald Cryer, Ted Amirkhan and Jim Giblin, all end material. McGrath finds his best potential at the flanks, with more than eight candidates in all for the two positions.

On the inner wall, Don Monson, right guard, Al Gerrans, tackle, Jim Farley, tackle and Nick Sutter, guard, appear as hopefuls.

Farley, a 220-pounder, came in at the tail end of last year's season and didn't have much opportunity to show his stuff.

Other prospects who haven't got much of a file behind them include: Bob Brandt, 215 pounds, up from the frosh-soph, where he played fullback; Ron Moon, also a frosh-soph campaigner at first string tackle; Rich Duncan, FS experience, at guard; Boyd Hillyer, first string FS, 180 pounds; Steve Canty, 6' 3" end from the frosh-soph who is reputed to have a very good pair of hands; Lee Casentini, frosh-soph end, a possible backfield candidate; Delmar Scott, frosh-soph end; Al Gerrans, scrub tackle with the varsity; Ronald Swanson, another varsity reservist who worked at guard; Dick Sutter, a 240-pounder who may fill in at center.

Always Optimistic

McGrath, always optimistic, figures, and safely so, that his club will finish higher than their next-to-last place position in the Peninsula Athletic league last year.

Actually the Jeff mentor has lost only five of his key players: Harry Sampson and Mike Cloonan, all-league guard and end, respectively; Al Figone, tackle; Rich Giusti, linebacker; and half back Hamann.

McGrath points to the fact that while he hasn't got any real speedster in the backfield, all of the first-string prospects are better than average runners.

He could start a line that averaged 220 pounds if he cared to draw from some of the greener stock, but even with his present top prospects in the forward wall, it would swing the needle over 190 pounds per man.

Everybody Plays

This year everybody will get a chance to play. McGrath will manage this phenomena by dividing the club into a varsity and a jayvee squad, which will have regularly scheduled games with other teams of similar ability. The division will not be rigid. If a jayvee is good enough he can bounce a regular, and conversely, the starters may be booted down to the jayvees if they don't perform.

Coaching the jayvee club will be Bob Watt. McGrath will have a new assistant varsity coach, Frank Pustay of Oakland, former grid star of University of Cincinnati.

This year McGrath is going to make up his first, second and jayvee platoons with an eye toward next year. On the reserve clubs, he'll try to place a junior in each spot so that when '56 rolls around he'll have a ready-made balanced club.

Here it is still summer of '55, and already we're getting a rundown on the 1956 team.

Pennisi Misses 1st Heat; Still 3rd At Fresno Boat Races

Frank Pennisi of Daly City encountered fuel line trouble in the first heat but came back to win the second and place third in his DU Class runabout in the Second Annual Pacific Coast North and South Outboard championships last weekend at Millerton lake near Fresno.

Pennisi pulled out of the first heat altogether when his gas line broke, but powered back in the second heat to win with an average speed of 53 mph, nearly two miles per hour faster than the speed in the initial heat. Had he even placed in the first heat, he would have garnered enough points to take overall first place.

In the north-south competition, the south won handily by nearly 9000 points.

Pennisi's next competition will be the Needles 115 marathon October 2, at which he placed 10th out of 30 last year.

Christman Blanks OLPH, 2-0, To Give Broadmoor DC Little League Crown

Southern Pitcher Terry Christman scored one run and drove in another to give Broadmoor Yankees a 2-0 victory Sunday over OLPH at 12 Mile House park Saturday that decided the 1955 Daly City Little league championship.

The two teams had split in the first two contests of the best two-out-of-three series.

Besides providing the offensive spark, Christman gave up only four hits, walked one and struck out four batters.

Christman opened the first inning with a single into right. Bill Hix laid down a perfect sacrifice, moving Christman to second. Successive singles by Bob Goodwin and Webb Parker brought Christman home with the game's first run, after which the side was retired.

Another Run

The Yanks gained an insurance run in the fifth frame with one man out as Tom McHugh, catcher, drove a long double to deep center. OLPH Manager Lowell Creighton then yanked his chucker, Dick Reese, in favor of Rich Morales. The fresh moundsman got the first batter, Dixie Howell, to fly out for the second out. Christman then slammed a single into right field, scoring McHugh for the game's final tally.

The parochial school nine never threatened until the top of the seventh inning. Up to that time they failed to get a runner past first base, as Christman was always in command.

In the seventh frame, Christman allowed his first walk. Reese then rifled a single between third and shortstop to put two men on. Creighton then called on pinch hitter Jim Millet, who grounded out. With two away and runners on second and third, Mike Kennedy stepped up. Christman struck him out to end the threat.

In Reese's five-innings of work, he gave up seven hits, one walk and struck out one. Morales allowed two hits, no walks and struck out one.
